- To initialize you project, use the terminal on linux to create the project.
- After that, open the eclipse IDE and go in import
- Go in Maven, and Existing Maven Project

- Go in browse and locate the maven project that you created
- He will detected the pom.xml file

- Lets Initialize him
- Go in Debbug configuration
- Find Quarkus Application and go in new configuration

- Go in Browse and select the quarkus project and go in apply and debbug

- If you see the console, he will show the debbug result of the basic project

- Access http://localhost:8080/ to see the project running.

- You you acess http://localhost:8080/hello, you will see the hello msg